MEMORANDUM

Subject: Lisa Howard's Interview with Fidel Castro

In Lisa Howard's interview with Castro, the following points come through:

- a. The missiles were introduced to forestall United States aggression.
- b. The Soviet troops were merely technicians - but would fight if Cuba is invaded.
- c. Schism between hard nosed Commies and Fidelistas has been reconciled.
- d. Castro is no puppet. He has complete self determination. No strings on Soviet aid.
- e. Denies exporting revolution. Says it can't be done.
- f. Blames turn to Communism on suspension of sugar quota.
- g. Receptive to a United States commission to talk about compensation.
- h. Abandoned earlier promises of elections, etc. because of changed conditions and state of war.
- i. Would welcome reductions of tensions and rapprochement with United States.
- j. Will not become the Tito of the Caribbean.

COMMENT:

1. Public airing in the United States of this interview would strengthen the arguments of "peace" groups, "liberal" thinkers, Commies, fellow travellers, and opportunistic political opponents of present United States policy.

2. It would provide Castro with a wide United States and international audience for his "reasonable" line. Question: Should we facilitate his propaganda efforts?

3. Other Latin American countries, particularly Brazil, Mexico, Bolivia and Uruguay, would say, in effect "Let's relax, there is no danger. Why should we continue to beat on Castro?"

4. Denial of ABC "rights" to report the news would raise the question of "managed" news.
